Faith and Practice of Baltimore Yearly Meeting, the Sixth Query: Home and Family Do you make your home a place of affection where God's presence is felt? Do you practice family prayer? Do you share your deepest beliefs and interests with all in the family? Do you grow together through sharing prosperity and adversity? Can you keep a sense of humor and avoid taking yourself too seriously? Do you establish family standards including the mutual obligations of children and adults? Are you as children learning to be accountable for your own actions? Do you as parents help your children to grow in independence and responsibility? Do you consider the needs of grandparents and older members of the family circle?

And here next are the people sown in rocky places: when they hear the account, right away they take it in with joy. Yet they don't take root, but instead are merely of the moment, so then when grinding hardship or hounding come because of the account, they instantly fall away.

And the next people are the ones sown among the thorny weeds: these have heard the account, but the anxieties of this present life, and the false appeal of wealth, and passions for other things come in among them and strangle the account, and then it can't bear grain.

— from Mark 4:16-19 (Sarah Ruden translation)
