Faith and Practice of Baltimore Yearly Meeting, the Seventh Query: Caring for Others Do you respect that of God in every person? Do you search yourself for and strive to eliminate prejudices such as those related to race, religion, gender, age, sexual orientation, and economic condition? In what ways do you accept and appreciate differences among your friends and associates? Do you avoid exploiting or manipulating others to accomplish ends, however worthy?

“Love is essentially social. It is the expression of a spiritual force, radiating from a personal center, and having its motive in persons. If then we believe that God is love, we believe not in a passive God, indifferent to human suffering and need, but in a personal God who cares for every individual soul, who is ever in his intensity seeking to make Himself known, to make His redeeming and healing power felt.”

John Wilhelm Rowntree, Friend
